

AgentStream

An online community where travel professionals world-wide gather to network on a daily basis.

AgentStream isn't your typical online social community. Travel professionals around the globe come together in this free travel community to share knowledge and build relationships on a daily basis.

- personal blogs,
- search capabilities by agent or areas of expertise.

Access and Availability

To register, visit www.agentstream.com and click the 'feedback' link, found at the bottom of the screen. Then provide us with your name, agency name and email address. You'll receive an email allowing you to set your own password within 24 hours.

Key Benefits

As a member, you can learn about new products, collaborate with peers, ask or answer questions and even manage your own blog. AgentStream also allows travel professionals to:

- create private groups for trusted friends, destination specialists, your individual agency or teams,
- keep in touch with connections made at conferences/ networking events,
- read reviews on destinations, properties, extras, activities or restaurants from a reputable base of professional agents,
- market yourself and your expertise through your profile.

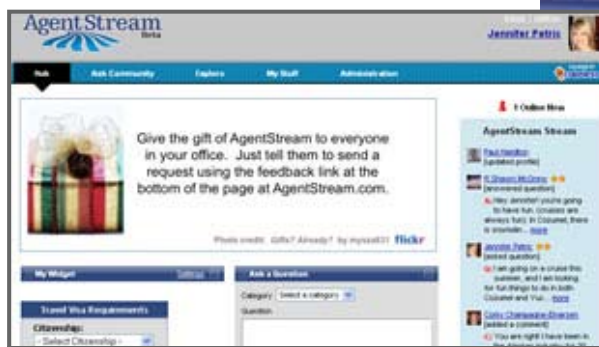

Personalize your profile with your info and see personal notes from your peers.

Features

Some key features of the community include:

- a question and answer section,
- pick lists – see how your peers rate hotels, restaurants and vacation activities,

See what questions have been posted on the home page.