

For Immediate Release
December 7, 2004
Page 1 of 1

Contact: Rick DeLisi
Director, Corporate Communications
(703) 650-6019

All Independence Air (DH) Flights/Fares To Become Available For Sale Through Sabre System

Over 50,000 Sabre-Connected Travel Agencies Will Have Access To FLYi Schedule

Dulles, VA, (December 7, 2004) – Low-fare airline Independence Air (Nasdaq: FLYi) announced today a new agreement that will make its entire flight schedule and all fares available for sale through the Sabre global distribution system (GDS). Independence Air flights will be listed under the symbol DH.

According to Sabre Travel Network, almost half of all airline tickets sold in North America through GDSs that serve travel agencies are booked via the Sabre system, and an estimated $70 billion worth of travel-related product is sold annually through the Sabre system on a worldwide basis.

Independence Air Senior Vice President of Marketing Eric Nordling said, “Sabre’s extensive global reach—including widespread coverage in the Washington, DC market—encompasses a network of more than 50,000 travel agency locations booking both business and leisure travel for their customers. Today’s announcement represents a huge opportunity for us to reach even more corporate travel managers and travel agencies who’ve been telling us they are excited about taking advantage of our low-fare service.”

FLYi offers low-fare flights to a total of 40 destinations—with West Palm Beach service to begin on February 1st. The airline’s operation at Washington Dulles International Airport is the largest low-fare hub in America in terms of total departures. The company employs approximately 4,700 aviation professionals. For more information about FLYi, Inc. and Independence Air, please visit our website at FLYi.com.

Independence Air is the low-fare airline that makes travel fast and easy for its customers with a customer-first attitude, innovative thinking and a willingness to challenge the status quo.

Independence Air, the “i” logo mark, FLYi.com and Go Your Own Way are service marks of Independence Air, Inc. ©Independence Air, Inc. 2004

###